Consideration of Money.

Assignment.

(a) Bonds being Things in Action, are not in their Nature assignable, though Assignments are frequently made of them; but as the Assignee cannot put the same in Suit in his own Name, there is always a Letter of Attorney inserted for his receiving or suing for the Money, &c. in the Assignor's Name, consequently in a legal Sense, the whole amounts to little more than a Letter of Attorney; and yet the Paper, Parchment and Wax of a Bond, &c. may be assigned, and the Assignee may keep or cancel it; but in some Cases by Statutes, a Bond may be assigned, and the Assignee may sue upon it in his own Name; as in Bankruptcy and Bail-Bonds. See Vol. I. p.

several in Part recited Indentures of Lease, and Indentures of Assignment thereof (all duly registred) Relation being to them respectively had, more fully may appear: And whereas the said several Sums of 300*l.* and 100*l.* so secured to the said Lady *R. And whereas his present Majesty's Commission, &c. (to the like Effect as in precedent Assignment, &c.) And whereas in or about the Month of December now last past, the said Lady *R. (b) Q. What is neceſſary to be done for barring the Uſes and Limitations in the Marriage Settlement of the 14th of April, &c. and for Sir O. B. and his Son to make a good Title in Fee of the Cheſhire Eſtate.

Let Sir O. and F. B. his Son ſuffer a Recovery of the Cheſhire Eſtate, in which Sir O. muſt be firſt vouched, and then his Son, who muſt vouch the Common Vouchee. It is abſolutely neceſſary for Sir O. to be vouched, becauſe the Intail which deſcended to him from Sir O. his Father doth not appear to have been ever barred for Want of a Tenant in the Recovery primo Annæ, and when this be done effectually, I conceive a good Title may be made to theſe Premiſſes in Fee.
